

The diagram illustrates a page layout with two distinct regions. A large green area, outlined in green, occupies most of the page. A red area, outlined in red, is located on the right side, representing the spine of the book. The text 'Keep the design in Green Area' is centered within the green region. The text 'Spine Area' is written vertically in red within the red region. At the bottom left, there is a note about rich black color values.
